Mission

The Bureau of Economic, Energy and Business (EEB) works to build the economic framework to achieve U.S. foreign policy goals and enhance the long-term prosperity of the United States. The Bureau accomplishes this by promoting open economies through extensive trade and investment negotiations; by strengthening global economic rules through performance-based development programs and active leadership in multilateral organizations; and by advocacy and support for U.S. private sector activities around the world. One of EEB's primary missions is to work closely with other agencies, businesses, labor groups, and non-governmental organizations to sustain a strong, secure, dynamic international economic system that will continue to provide new opportunities for American business, workers, and farmers.

Enhancing the security of the United States is essential to achieving long-term prosperity. EEB provides vital support to front-line states threatened by terrorism, using all of its policy tools and arsenal to help states undercut terrorist recruitment by providing an economic future and hope to their citizens in strategic regions. The Bureau works successfully with allies to dry up sources of terrorist financing. The Bureau also helps to increase energy security through development of alternative energy sources, prudent management of oil reserves, and diversification of external energy sources. EEB works hard to enhance the security of key infrastructure, particularly for the transport, information, and energy networks.

Priorities

Treaty and Trade Agreement Support

EEB provides critical support and foreign policy guidance to the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) in opening new markets for U.S. goods and services by negotiating and implementing trade agreements, including World Trade Organization (WTO) accession agreements, and by resolving trade disputes. EEB negotiates Bilateral Investment Treaties (BITs) and Free Trade Agreement (FTA) investment chapters that open up restrictive investment regimes and stimulate growth. The Bureau pioneered a successful program to increase market access and promote acceptance of agricultural biotechnology, empowering poor growers in developing countries and opening markets for American farmers. EEB leads the negotiation of air services agreements that foster competition by removing restrictions on the number of carriers, routes, aircraft, services, and prices. EEB is the U.S. Government lead in international information and communications technology (ICT) policies and initiatives, including Internet and radio spectrum issues vital to U.S. economic prosperity and national security. EEB works with the Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and Labor to monitor threats, respond to restrictions, and advance freedom of expression and the free flow of information on the Internet. EEB managed a $1 million FY2004-2008 grant program ($200k/yr) and seeks its reauthorization for FY2010-2014 so we can continue to train ICT officials and highlight the importance of connectivity through groundbreaking public-private partnerships like CIP's Pakistan Telemedicine Project.

The Bureau, along with the Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and Labor, established the Secretary's Global Internet Freedom Taskforce (GIFT) to monitor threats, respond to restrictions, and advance freedom of expression and the free flow of information on the Internet, and leads the President's Digital Freedom Initiative.

This indicator measures milestones of progress towards the Bureau of Economic, Energy and Business Affairs' (EEB) goals of promoting economic growth through market-opening trade and investment agreements; strengthening adherence to global economic rules and norms; and achieving favorable outcomes in multilateral standards-setting organizations through active U.S. leadership. This indicator is contained in the PART assessment.

Economic Growth and Development

EEB promotes sustainable economic growth and development by enhancing investment climates abroad, fostering modern and well-regulated global financial markets, and helping poor countries recover from financial crises, including excessive debt. One of the greatest challenges is addressing the scourge of corruption, which continues to divert resources, deter private sector investment, and impede economic development, particularly in the poorest countries. EEB leads the U.S. interagency process to strengthen the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) Anti-Bribery Convention to fight bribery in international business transactions and reinforces this by improving anti-bribery disciplines for OECD-member export credit agencies. The Bureau also promotes anti-corruption practices through multilateral development bank programs.

This indicator measures the direct support that the Bureau of Economic, Energy, and Business Affairs provides to U.S. business in exporting goods and services as well as in resolving commercial disputes and managing overseas investments.

Strengthening Compliance with Economic Rules and Norms

EEB's International Intellectual Property Enforcement Office (IPE) advocates for U.S. right holders and directs the U.S. Government's overseas intellectual property enforcement technical assistance and training programs. IPE's work helps fight growing terrorist and organized crime networks that use counterfeiting and piracy to finance their operations. EEB works closely with the USTR to develop and advocate for U.S. policy on WTO dispute settlement cases against countries not living up to their trade commitments. The Bureau promotes the integration of labor standards as a negotiating objective in FTAs and works to ensure that all of the U.S. Government's trade agreements include enforceable provisions on relevant international labor standards, that FTA environmental obligations are met, and that a Doha Round agreement includes U.S.-led environmental initiatives.

Supporting U.S. Businesses and Private Sector Growth and Investment

EEB works with the U.S. embassies regularly to advocate for U.S. companies to ensure fair play, assist with regulatory and investment problems, and maximize commercial opportunities. The Bureau supports American companies doing business in more than 140 countries that do not have a Commerce Department Commercial Service (CS) presence, using EEB's Business Facilitation Incentive Fund to bolster commercial support platforms, increase commercial training, and improve IT capabilities.

Promoting Energy and Aviation/Maritime Security

The Bureau focuses on the development of transparent global energy markets with open access to suppliers and consumers and intensified dialogue with Saudi Arabia and other key producers to increase oil production and capacity. The Bureau works with Iraq to build a hydrocarbons framework to assist in developing its oil resources and leads diplomatic efforts to support multiple pipelines for Caspian oil and natural gas. EEB is also processing Presidential Permit applications for three major crude oil lines from Canada that will boost our crude supplies by over 1 million barrels per day, or over 5 percent of our current daily consumption when fully operational. EEB promotes responsible development of energy resources through the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) and the Code of Corporate Responsibility. The Bureau works closely with the International Energy Agency to develop and sustain emergency strategic energy stocks and to disseminate energy efficiency and low-carbon energy technology best practices globally. EEB leads the USG in negotiating civil aviation agreements with other countries; it also enhances security conditions at overseas airports and seaports and bolsters inspection of passengers and freight prior to their entry into the United States by working with the U.S. Coast Guard and the Transportation Security Administration to assess foreign governments' adherence to international security standards and by working with the Customs and Border Protection to establish new supply chain security initiatives.

Justification of Program Change

Enhancing Long-Term U.S. Prosperity and Security - $1,351,000

The funding and associated new positions requested will serve to increase the Department of State's ability to advance economic foreign policy goals that benefit the U.S. by enhancing our long-term prosperity and security. Economic issues such as energy security, protection of intellectual property rights, food security and advocacy for U.S. business and intellectual property rights are critical to the well-being of our country. Additional resources will enable EEB to increase its productivity in achieving U.S. policy goals in these and other crucial areas that are in the best interests of the U.S.

The requested funding will accelerate U.S. export and investment promotion initiatives at U.S. embassies worldwide where there is no Department of Commerce presence, and it will also support strong advocacy for the activities of U.S. business abroad. The export of U.S. agricultural products will be enhanced through educational outreach programs that support food security, facilitate trade by promoting understanding of agricultural biotechnology and encourage the adoption of fair and science-based policies in other countries. The funding will also be used to support our presence at international telecommunications conferences where the Bureau has the statutory responsibility to coordinate and lead all U.S. Government activities regarding the formation and advocacy of international communication and information policy. The promotion of information and communication technologies globally benefits U.S. business, enhances development and strengthens democracy.

The requested funding will also support a new position that will serve to advocate for and protect U.S. intellectual property rights holders by offering technical enforcement assistance and training programs to foreign governments. Others will help promote U.S. energy security through the development of alternative energy sources, prudent management of oil reserves, and development and management of emergency strategic energy stocks. Finally, an additional position will continue the growth of job creation and economic development in key troubled areas in strategically important regions.
