

2017 Jefferson/Overseas Schools Technology Institute

JOSTI* Conference Overview

June 26-June 30, 2017

What: The Jefferson/Overseas Technology Institute (JOSTI) is an annual five-day technology training experience for overseas educators. JOSTI 2015 offers training in two strands:

- Real Educators Only! (K-12)
- Real Techies Only!

There will also be a special emphasis on virtual learning, highlighting collaborative communities and shared resources.

When: June 26-June 30, 2017

Who: JOSTI is for educators who wish to increase awareness, understanding and use of technology. Teachers, administrators, technology staff, and librarians are invited to apply.

A/OS member schools may send one or more participants. Technology training will be open to approximately 75 participants. One participant per school will be given first priority; others will be enrolled on a space-available basis.

Where: This annual institute is held at the Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology, in Fairfax, Virginia.
