US Support for Safeguards

Multilateral Safeguards Support

- Since 2010, the United States has
  - Pledged $182 million in extra-budgetary funding for IAEA safeguards work.
  - Supported over 125 safeguards tasks, including providing over 35 staff, funding over 50 training courses, and supporting the procurement of nearly 20 different safeguards equipment systems.
  - Provided almost $28 million in extrabudgetary funds to upgrade the IAEA Safeguards Analytical Laboratories since 2010.

Bilateral Safeguards Support

- The United States has
  - Engaged nearly 50 countries to improve safeguards infrastructure.
  - Trained more than 2,800 foreign practitioners in safeguards since 2007.
  - Held more than 90 training courses and workshops on safeguards implementation since 2010.
  - Concluded over 240 projects and deployed over 40 customized or new safeguards technologies in partner countries via the New Generation Safeguards Initiative (NGSI).

Safeguards Education and Training

- The United States also seeks to recruit, educate, train, and retain a new generation of international safeguards specialists by:
  - Developing nonproliferation university curriculum at over a dozen universities.
  - Sponsoring internships, graduate/post-graduate research and fellowship opportunities.
  - Developing and sponsored six annual short courses on safeguards and nonproliferation topics.
- To date, over 1000 students and young professionals have completed NGSI safeguards courses and approximately 350 have participated in NGSI-funded internships.
